

Kalula Bay

by Alan Paramor (as Alan Moore) & Peter Pavey (as Partridge Green)

If you've got a little boat
And provided it can float
You can sail away
To Kalula Bay
In the south sea tropic isles
All the girls wear only smiles
There the palm trees sway
Down in Kalula Bay

If you've got your ukulele
And a bunch of coconuts
They will entertain you daily
In their little bamboo huts
Ev'ry evening there's a Polynesian moon
Shining on the blue lagoon
Where the dolphins play
Down in Kalula Bay

Far across the sea of dreams
You live on independent means
Why there's no work all day
In Kalula Bay
All you do is just relax
There's no rent or income tax
Not a thing to pay
Down in Kalula Bay

You can do the hula-hula
As you taste exotic fruits
Till the temperature gets cooler
You all wear your birthday suits
Just remember all you do is close your eyes
Then you start to realise
You're off on your way
Down to Kalula Bay

When you think that you are in heaven
The alarm goes off at seven
And you can't stay
In Kalula Bay
